Kweh, I hope this quarter’s Turtle Talk finds all doing well and enjoying their summer during our current conditions.

During this unprecedented time, I want to take the time to let you know that the main concern of our tribal government, now and in the future, is to provide service to the Wyandotte people. Those of us who serve you in your government are working hard to continue that service.

The health and wellbeing of our people continues to drive our decision-making. We are dedicated to serving the needs of Wyandotte people regardless of the challenges we encounter. Our staff here at the Wyandotte Nation has continued to go above and beyond their job description to ensure services are continued to be provided.

We are now operating in a new reality and we have instituted a number of changes to adjust to the current environment. We have lost a significant percentage of our tribal revenue. We were prepared financially to cope with a crisis situation. Our team had the insight to set aside funds and have reserves in place. We didn’t know we would be specifically facing a pandemic, but we were prepared for a crisis situation.

Your government is functioning some of the work we now do is away from the office, but the work continues to get done. Much of our communication now is teleconference, video conference, email and text almost exclusively. It is a big change, but we are handling it and getting the work done. We have a great team here at the Wyandotte Nation and I have watched our team grow stronger and work more efficiently than ever before during this pandemic. You should take pride in the fact our people are adjusting well and are committed to effective action that produces good results for the Wyandotte people.

The Bearskin Clinic has done an outstanding job adapting and improvising during this unprecedented time and should be commended for all they have done working on the front lines fighting this pandemic while still providing excellent care to our patients. We are providing drive-through testing for all citizens who make the request. We have also put in place rapid testing equipment that expedites testing and results.

The key for us has been our early actions. We established health and safety guidelines early on. As a result, we believe, we have experienced fewer cases within the Wyandotte Nation.

On a very positive note we received some great news on May 20 when the Assistant Secretary of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Tara Sweeney called and informed us that she had just signed the notice of intent to accept our 10.53 acres of land in Park City, Kansas, into trust for gaming purposes. The battle to take this land into trust actually began when we were first informed in 1993 that it did not qualify for gaming purposes and was denied. We re-applied again in 2006 and have fought for the last 14 years to have this land taken into trust for gaming purposes. We have now started the process of putting up a temporary gaming facility to establish gaming and are working on a master plan for a larger development. We will be sharing more about this project in the future, but this is a great victory for the Tribe and will help us secure a better future for our nation.

You and your family continue to be the focus of all our efforts. We are doing our business much differently, but who we serve has not changed. Our job is to keep your government running at a high level, and to make sure you are healthy, safe and get what you need from those of us who serve you. May God bless you and your family and keep you safe during these trying times.

From the Second Chief

Norman Hildebrand, Jr.

Coping with a crazy new reality

Kweh Omateru

Hello my friends, I hope everyone is coping with the crazy world we are living in right now. With riots, protests, racial issues, politics and pandemics it seems that nothing is going to be solved anytime soon. This upheaval will probably be with us for a while until people start coming to their senses and just chill out for a while. Go out into nature, sit by a creek or a lake or take a walk in the woods, clear your head and enjoy what God has given us, and hopefully gain a better perspective.

Wyandotte is in a rural area so we have not been affected by the pandemic like other areas in the country. But we have still taken precautions to protect our employees, elders and all members of our great little community here. I hope all of our tribal citizens all across this country stay safe and do not become a statistic to this pandemic.

Now for some history I think you will find this interesting.

"In order to deserve, we must pay our dues and steadily work for perfection. We must relish in struggle, and relinquish pride. We must dispel fear and seek enlightenment. We must know our hearts and seek to understand others. We must try, live, create, feel, grow and love."

Why did Iroquoian cousin fight Iroquoian cousin in one of the most accidentally decisive wars in history?
The oral traditions of the Huron-Wyandot people say it was because of a beautiful young woman and her evil scheme for blood revenge. In the story, the ancestors of the Huron-Wyandot were named as the instigators -- they were simply identified as being Wyandot. At this point in time, whenever this may have been, a tribe by the name of Wyandot did not exist. The Seneca were named as the recipients of the Wyandot’s ill-fated decision; however, like with the name Wyandot, a tribe by the name of Seneca did not exist. There is no doubt the two tribes existed, but by what name they called themselves is unknown. Over time as the war fizzled onward, as a never-ending blood feud, the Europeans arrived to the Great Island. After their arrival, and self-serving interests came into play, the complexity and complexity of the war began to change. The tradition of the blood feud, found among the Iroquoian tribes, festered into a policy of eradication and total conquest.

It is generally believed, even with little archaeological evidence, the Wenroronon lived alongside the Seneca on the southern side of Lake Ontario. The Wenroronon have been identified as a tribe of the Neutral Confederacy and likely one of the oldest, largest, and strongest tribes in the region. We know that one of the three parent tribes of the Huron-Wyandot was the Wenroronon; therefore, I will change the oral tradition just a touch and name the Wyandots in the story as the Wenroronon. Even by doing this we fall short of truly identifying the name by which the people had named themselves. The name Wenroronon is the name the Wendat people called their cousins.

There was a beautiful young woman of the Wenroronon who all the young men in her village desired as their mate. The problem was she wanted nothing to do with the young men. After many failed attempts by the young men to claim her as their mate, they gave up. In frustration the young men approached the village war chief who had an outstanding reputation as a warrior. The young men told the war chief, if one of them could not have the young woman as their mate, he should be the one to have her as his mate. They believed with his reputation the young woman quickly accept his proposal. At this time it was a tradition that all the young women and men of the tribe fulfill their duties and keep the clans well populated.

The war chief reluctantly agreed to participate in this new kind of ‘love-war game.’ After being convinced the war chief donned his finest regalia and looked nobly impressive. The war chief approached the young woman with confidence and in a most spectacular way only to feel her rejection. No Wenroronon war chief ever turned his back to a challenge and good fight. This love-war game had now become a fight not only to preserve the war chief’s dignity, but if possible, the young woman’s approval. The war chief was now inspired to obtain her as his mate beyond the encouragement and dare of the village’s young men.

After several advancements, the beautiful young woman finally consented to the war chief’s proposal; however, the young woman had a proposal and condition of her own. The young woman would not divulge her condition until the war chief swore an oath upon his reputation and honor as the greatest warrior of the Wenroronon people. The war chief’s answer was an immediate no. He would not consent to doing something without first knowing what! The young men of the village teased and encouraged the war chief to accept the young woman’s offer before she changed her mind. Again, with great reluctance the war chief finally consented to doing as the young woman wished. It was then the young woman whispered her evil desire—kill the war chief of the Seneca. The Seneca war chief had killed the young woman’s brother and she wanted blood revenge.

The Wenroronon war chief immediately refused. The war chief of the Seneca had been his closest friend since childhood. The young woman then threatened to announce to the whole of the tribe that the war chief was a coward in disguise who hid behind his feathers and paint. The war chief was now without a choice of his own. After donning his feathers and paint, feasting, and giving honor to his totem, the Wenroronon war chief collected his weapons and walked a short distance to the village of the Seneca war chief. At this time the Wenroronon and Seneca tribes were said to be the closest of friends.

After locating his friend, the Wenroronon war chief brutally killed the Seneca war chief in front of family and friends. The anger that raged inside the heart of the Wenroronon war chief was pure. The brutality inflicted upon the Seneca war chief was nothing less than the rage of a rabid wolf. In his rage the Wenroronon war chief was convinced that every blow he delivered to his best friend, were blows given to the body of his devious mate -- who would never be his mate.

In retaliation, the warriors of the Seneca people vowed to destroy the Wenroronon people from the Great Island. A simple blood feud turned into outright war. A friendship between peoples that had existed since the beginning of time was destroyed. The warriors of the Seneca people came close to fulfilling their oath; however, after many years of war the Seneca failed. The Huron warriors fought the Seneca warriors to a truce with the help of their Algonquian allies, the Ottawa, Potawatomi, and Chippewa. This is how the war between Iroquoian cousins nearly destroyed the Great Island. During the war many different cultures and traditions disappeared from the Great island.

I hope you enjoyed that story and remember with actions come consequences. I thought it was interesting and hope you did too. I have said this many times but I am proud to serve the Wyandotte Citizens as Second Chief of the greatest Indian Nation in the country.

Persistence and Perseverance

Plans for Park City property move forward

By William Swaim

If there is one thing Wyandotte Nation Chief Billy Friend has learned from the tribe’s history, it’s persistence leads to perseverance.

In the case of the Tribe’s efforts to conduct gaming on 10.5 acres it purchased back in 1991 in Park City, Kansas, Chief Friend said it once again proved true. He said once the Tribe won the legal battle on the Kansas City property in 2006 (7th Street Casino), he re-submitted the application to take the Park City land into trust at the end of 2006 to the Regional BIA office in Oklahoma. It was forwarded in January 2009 to the central office in Washington, DC. From 2009 until the land was taken into trust, the Tribe sued the federal government and received a denial, but he said they remained persistent knowing that the law was always on the Tribe’s side.

“I was at home mowing my yard when I received a call from Tara Sweeney, the Assistant Secretary of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, informing me that she had just signed notice of intent to take our land into trust,” Chief Friend said of the May 20 phone call. “I had to pinch myself several times to make sure it wasn’t a dream or I was suffering from heat exhaustion.”

What it means to the Tribe is the ability to conduct gaming on the property in Park City.

“The city (Park City) has always been a supporter of the Tribe gaming there because they know it will produce jobs in their community and spur further economic development in their community,” Chief Friend said. “We all believe that the casino will create a synergy and will bring added long-term development in the area.”

From an economic standpoint, Wyandotte Tribe of Oklahoma (WTOK) CEO Kelly Carpino said Park City has been a part of many decisions made the past several years regarding economic development of the Wyandotte Nation. WTOK is the federally-chartered corporation of the Wyandotte Nation.

“Through all of the years of growing our enterprises, we focused on managing cash flow and debt so that when the time came to build the Park City property, we would be prepared,” Carpino said. “After a long, persistent effort, the land is in trust and we are ready and able to move full steam ahead.”

Carpino said the goal is to have a temporary facility with 500 Class II slot machines open in November. At the same time, they will be working on the Master Plan for the larger casino and resort.

Chief Friend said it has also been important to have communication with local and state leaders in the area. “We have been in constant communication with Park City officials over the last 12 years and have just recently sat down with Kansas Governor Laura Kelly to make introductions and to communicate to her that we would be submitting a compact in the future to conduct class 3 gaming.”

In addition to the 10.5 acres, the Tribe also purchased approximately another 109 acres of land that is contiguous to the trust land. Since all the gaming must take place on the 10.5 acres, the additional land allows the Tribe to put other amenities such as parking, hotel, entertainment, etc. on the additional acreage.

“Our goal is to see all the additional lands used as retail, restaurants, and other economic development opportunities,” Chief Friend said. “This has been a long awaited day for the Wyandotte Nation and we believe there are endless possibilities with the development of this property. It will further enable us to fulfill our mission of improving the quality of life of every tribal citizen.”

Carpino said the land is in an ideal location for what they want to do, adding it has always represented a significant opportunity for the Wyandotte Nation’s economic development.

The Wyandotte Nation Board of Director’s have also made the difficult decision to cancel the 2020 Pow-Wow, the Gathering and Wyandotte Artisan Showcase for 2020. Leadership will continue to monitor the situation and hope to host a showcase in Spring 2021. In addition, due to the continuing threat of the COVID-19 virus, we have regretfully had to cancel our Tribal Town Hall Meetings scheduled for this fall in both Southern and North Central California. Our hope is that we can reschedule them both for next Spring. We will keep you informed as we make plans for next year.

We will have our constitutionally required Annual Meeting Saturday, Sept. 12. Family Services

Submitted by Dana Butterfield, Family Services Director

“We are strong Wyandotte women!” That has been the motto for the Family Services staff this summer. During this pandemic, we have worked together to the best of our ability, to continue to provide services to our citizens. Somethings may look different and may have different requirements to meet social distancing guidelines, but most all of our services are still available.

In this article I would like to highlight a few of our existing programs that are only available between July 1 and Sept. 30, and a couple programs funded by the CARES Act that are currently available as well as Annual Meeting and enrollment information.

The School Supply Program started July 1 and is available to all students nationwide pre-k (must be at least 3 and enrolled in a qualified learning program) through grade 12. Each student is eligible for up to $100 for school supplies, clothing, backpacks, lunch boxes, etc. Walmart gift cards are available for tribal citizens who reside in Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas and Missouri, and students nationwide will be reimbursed for expenses. The Low Income Heat Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) began July 1 and will be available on a first come first serve basis to those living in the state of Oklahoma and has an income requirement. Eligible families have the choice to apply for LIHEAP either through the state of Oklahoma or with the Tribe. This application is on the website, Facebook or can be obtained from our office. If you have questions please call 918-678-6319.

Another CARES Act funded program is to assist with the purchase of laptops/computers for students who are either opting or being required to participate in distance learning. page and website for additional information regarding this. We will also have the meeting power point and reports available to any tribal citizen who would like to have one mailed. There will NOT be an election this year at the meeting. However, citizens will still be required to show their tribal membership or citizenship card (CDIB’s are not proof of enrollment and will not be accepted at the meeting) and photo ID to be eligible to register for the meeting and receive your gift certificates. If your citizenship card has a photo included this will meet both requirements. If you are in need of a tribal card please call the office or stop by and see us. Be sure to read the Annual Meeting notice elsewhere in the newsletter for additional details regarding social distancing, etc.

The Family Services staff would like to take this opportunity to tell you about our Intern, Sydney Nesvold. Sydney, has interned in the Family Services Department all five years she has participated in the Intern program. She is smart, kind, funny and an absolute joy to be around. She has been a huge asset to the Department. Each year she has increased her knowledge of our programs and is able to work independently. This will be our last year with Sydney as she will graduate from Pittsburgh State University in the Spring of 2021 with a degree in Education and start her teaching career. Sydney is the great-granddaughter of Artie Peacore Nesvold, the granddaughter of Charles Nesvold and the daughter of Rob and Angela Nesvold. She is definitely a “strong Wyandotte woman” and while we will miss her tremendously, we wish her well in her future and hope she knows she will always have a place in our hearts.

Other service programs available through the Family Services Department include: Elder’s Assistance, Extracurricular Expense; High School Jr/Sr Benefit; Fuel Assistance; Child Safety Seat Program; Tribal Tag Program; Supplemental Health (aka Benny card); Burial Assistance; Indian Child Welfare, Family Violence Prevention Program and Winter Clothing. Please note that some of the Family Service programs (with the exception of the Supplemental Health Program/Benny card) end on September 30th. No applications for this fiscal year will be accepted after that date. Most program guidelines and applications can be found on the tribe’s website http://www.wyandotte-nation.org/ or by calling the office.

As always, it is a great pleasure for us to be able to serve the citizens of the Wyandotte Nation. Please feel free to reach out to us if you have a need and we will do our best to assist you. Education

Submitted by Cristi Hudson, Education Director

Kweh,
Wyandotte Nation’s Preschool program recently held their annual preschool graduation. The setting was different from what we are used to, but we still had a great turn out of family and friends who gathered at Bear Park to watch their graduates receive diplomas.

This year’s top Kumon student is a Wyandotte Nation tribal member, Silas McLaughlin. Congratulations to Silas, on a great accomplishment!

If you have a child, ages 3-5, and live in the Wyandotte, Okla. area, we still have a few openings for the upcoming preschool year. The first day of preschool for the 2020-2021 school year will be Thursday, Aug. 13, 2020. Applications can be obtained by emailing Lindsay Cooper at lcooper@wyandotte-nation.org or you can request one by calling Lindsay at (918) 678-3267. Our Infant, One-year old and Toddler programs are currently full. To be added to the waiting list, please contact Lindsay.

The Child Care and Development Fund program is accepting new applications for families that are seeking child care assistance. We would be happy to assist in getting an application to you and answer any questions you may have. To be eligible for the Wyandotte Nation CCDF program, a household member must obtain a CDIB or tribal card, parents must be working or attending school, and you must live within certain counties in Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, and Arkansas. To request an application, or if you have any questions, you can email Sami Butterfield, our Child Care Coordinator, at sbutterfield@wyandotte-nation.org; or you can call her office at (918) 678-6330.

The Wyandotte Nation Library is open. The hours are Monday through Thursday 8 am to 5:30 pm and Friday 8 am to 3:30 pm. New books have recently been added with more arriving soon. Be sure to let Deb, our librarian, know if there is a certain book or movie you would like to see added to our collection.

Tribal Heritage
Submitted by Sherri Clemons, Tribal Heritage Director

It is with great sadness so many cultural events had to be cancelled for the year, and I am sure several are asking why? It is part of our culture to hug family and friends when we see them and want to be close. This virus has robbed us of that. Tribal leadership have tried to do this and be safe, but there is not currently a way to do this safely and be able to enjoy Pow-Wow the way it was meant to be.

So rather risk someone, maybe one of our elders get sick, we cancelled our cultural events. We will plan on 2021 to be the best year for all of our gatherings.

You can go to the Wyandotte website and brush up on history there: www.wyandottenation.org

Stay healthy and stay in touch.

Eastern Shawnee Tribe, Ottawa Tribe, Peoria Tribe, Quapaw Nation, Good Shepherd Hospice and Grand Gateway Area Agency on Aging.

We certainly are going to miss seeing everyone at the gathering and Pow-Wow this year. Looking forward to seeing you next year. Stay safe everyone!

CAREGIVER
(Suspended due to COVID-19) The Caregiver Support Group meets the first Thursday of each month in the Artie Nesvold Community Center (Title VI) Safe Room beginning at 10:30 am. This group is for all current and former caregivers. It is also for Grandparents raising grandchildren.

It is always a pleasure serving the Wyandotte Nation Citizens. Please feel free to call us anytime.

Tribal Police Department
Submitted by Glenn Johnston, Chief of Police

While the rural town of Wyandotte has been fortunate to not have the high numbers of persons testing positive for COVID-19, the safety of the Tribe is first and foremost. Therefore, we regret to announce that National Night Out will be cancelled this year due to the pandemic.

Despite the COVID-19 pandemic, the Tribal Advocates are still in full force. Anyone needing assistance from one of our many Tribal Advocate services will still be able to receive the same services as in the past.

Finally, after one and a half years of service to the Wyandotte Nation Tribal Police Department (WNTPD), Officer Denton Ward (Pictured Right) has moved into another phase of law enforcement. Denton was offered a position with the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA). Denton’s last tour of duty was on June 29, 2020. Denton came aboard with the WNTPD during the Summer Youth Program. Denton recalled that during his early years, he wanted to be a law enforcement officer. Officer Ward strove to fulfill his endeavors and did just that. For most Cadets that go through basic training in Ada, Okla., home of C.L.E.E.T. (Council on Law Enforcement Education and Training), it is a very trying time. The rigorous 12-week school is both physically and mentally challenging. While some cadets make it through, many do not. Denton was at the top of his class and named class leader. What Denton achieved during his tour of duty for the Wyandotte Nation and the Town of Wyandotte is second to none. We are all very proud of his accomplishments and what he has achieved. We wish him the very best in his endeavors in law enforcement. Be safe brother. We will always have your 6!
Planning & Natural Resources

Submitted by Christen Lee, Environmental & Planning Director

Wyandotte Nation’s mission is, “To advance the standard of living of the Tribe...and to promote in any other way the general welfare of the Indians of the Wyandotte Nation.” To carry this mission forward in our tribal community, the Planning and Natural Resources Department provide a variety of services including, but not limited to, private well drinking water sampling and septic assessments for private home owners. We also encourage and provide a place to recycle. Lost Creek Recycling Center is open to the community and surrounding area Monday through Thursday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Friday. The facility can accept the following materials: paper, plastic, cardboard, tin and aluminum.

Many, if not most, of Environmental Staff worked from home during the month of April due to the COVID-19 health emergency. However, we attended and participated in many virtual meetings regarding Natural Resource activities. Unfortunately, our monthly and quarterly water samples on our eight sites had to wait until May.

While May was a busy month trying to catch up on postponements and cancelations, our water staff has been busy with an increased number of private drinking well samples.

Sadly, we canceled this year’s Annual Environmental Festival because of school closings and concern for public safety.

On a lighter note, Lost Creek Recycle Center hosted a tire collection event in early July. Last November we collected 360 tires, which were collected by a Qualified Applicant for Collection & Transportation from Bristow, Okla. All tires will be refined and reused for other projects.

The Planning and Natural Resources Department is also dedicated to researching and applying for federal, state, and foundation grants to benefit the Tribe and tribal community. Projects often serve Tribal citizens within a 50-mile radius of tribal headquarters; however, some formula funded grants may serve citizens within a 100-mile radius. Ultimately, the department’s desire to serve and create a positive impact on all Wyandotte’s across the United States. Selecting grants is based upon community and departmental needs as well as the availability of funding opportunities. A summary of approved and pending applications can be seen in the tables to the right.
